Governor West paid the Deaf Mute Institute, on First North West Street, a visit of inspection a few days ago. While, like his friend, President Cleve-land, he is non-committal as to his intentions, he seemed to take a kindly interest in the welfare of the struggling institution. He was conducted through the whole building, and seemed pleased with the location.

J. S. Pagreame up from Payson this morning, and tells a distressing story of the misfortunes of the family of Mr. Jesse Knight, of that place. It seems that all of the family are sick with malarial fever, and last night a daughter died. Mr. Knight became hopelessly insane. His mania is of a religious type, and his actions are fearful to witness. Some action will be taken at Some action will be taken at once to care for the man and his sick family. Jesse Knight is a brother of Newell Knight, of this city.—American.

On Thusspay. Shariff Burt arrested a man named Wilson, barkeeper for Bourgard, at Bingham, on the charge of selling liquor without a license. He was taken before Justice Brunton, and plead guilty. On his taking out a license, however, and paying the costs, the case was dismissed. The sheriff says it frequently happens that saloon keepers in the outlying districts are from twenty to thirty days late in taking out their licenses, and the example made in the present case will probably spur others up to a more prompt dis-charge of their duty, and a greater respect for the law.

THERE WAS a huge rush for Dixey seats yesterday moraing, three or four messenger boys being in line as early as 2 o clock a.m. By night, the greater part of the dress direl and half the pit had been taken at the advanced priges The reserve sale for the matines was light, and the prospects are that the attendance will also be, as the average Sait Later has been so long educated to half rates for day performances, that he does not tackle kindly to any inno-vation. The Central Pacific train on which Dixey and his company are, was reported twelve hours late last evening. In consequence of this, the matinee will not commence until 3 o'clock. The night house is sure to be a great one.

THE STORM of Laureday evening was a theme for general comment yester-day. Thunder and lightning in the latter part of December would seem to be novelty enough for even the most fastidious. In the Twentieth Ward, the storm seemed to rage with the greatest violence. At about 10 30, lightning struck the summer kitchen of Mr. C. R. Savage, the fluid entering the side of the wooden building crossing the room the wooden building, crossing the room d agenally, and burying itself in the earth under a sink in the corner. There was a terrific explosion in the vicinity at the time, and the wires on the front porch of Mr. W. C. Dunbar were also torn oil. No one was nurt, but the shock was amply sufficient to unsettle the nerves of the whole neighborhood

John Sullivan, Esq., Constable, European, County:

Deer Sir—I went to Prove to-day, for the purpose of answering the complyint in the case of Bell Tompkins vs. Anne Marks Previous to going, I had been notified by Complying at the missioner Hills and William Culmer that the missioner Hills and William Culmer that the case was set down for hearing on the 19th and the other in her right pocket; in the afternoon Sullivan returned with Douglas and House; he gave each man a gun, and stationed them around the house; and the horses ran west for a block, when they did not see the arrest made, nor see the did not see the arrest made are did not see the arrest made ar ease was set down for hearing on the 19th inst. This word came to me by separate letters, written by each. On arriving at Provo, I was informed, to my utter astonishment, that on yesterday a default and judi ment had been taken, and that an execution had been placed in your hands to execute at once. Learning this fael, Commissioner Hills and I joined in a telegram to you to refrain from serving the same until further notice. I, of course, do not blame you, nor the commissioner, for anythinr you have done, as I am entirely satisfied that neither of you were parties to this sharp and unjustifiable practice. William Chimer is the only one I censure to the matter. It becomes my duty, however, to warn you that I shall hold you responsible if you undertake to execute that writ; and whatever you do under it we be at your own peril.

I give you this notice, not that I am blaming you, but from the fact that I am sure you will not do anything after understanding the trick that has been perpetrated upon me.

To-morrow, a motion will be made to set aside the default and judgment, and the proper appearance will entered in the case, and I shall be ready for trial. To-morrow, the 19th, is the day set for the trial, and I do not intend to be imposed upon by having
